Golden Raiders Defeat Pacific Tigers

Parade Trophy Awards Given To ATO, DG's

Crowds lined both sides of First street, Friday night at 8 p.m., to watch a colorful line of floats, bands, majorettes, and marching groups pass in review at the fifth annual San Jose State Homecoming parade.

Prevalent themes of the evening were "Welcome Alums" and "Beat the Tigers," and fraternities, sororities, and independent groups vied for supremacy with gaily bedecked and vari-colored floats carrying out these two main themes.

Immediately following the parade, during a bonfire rally held at the Spartan stadium parking lot, first place trophies for floats were awarded to Alpha Tau Omega fraternity, Delta Gamma sorority, and Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity.

Reigning over the parade festivities was 1953 Homecoming queen Trish Meyers and her court of four princesses, Conni MacLean, Virginia Watson, Jayne Peterson, and JoAnne McAllister. Queen Trish followed an honor guard of Army and Air Force ROTC cadets to lead off the three division parade.

Taking second and third place honors in the fraternity division were Theta Chi and Delta Upsilon. In the sorority division Alpha Chi Omega and Alpha Phi took second and third places respectively. Second and third places in the independent division were given to the COP Rally committee float and the Hui-O-Kamaian group. Delta Gamma took top float honors for the third consecutive year.

A last minute offer by the Lew Jones Construction company made possible the giant bonfire at Spartan stadium. The original one was raided and burned early Friday morning by students from a rival school.

Art Lund, chairman of the parade, and Jim Barnardi, general chairman for Homecoming, made the float awards.

Bruising Action Caught by Photographer

San Jose State college's 7-6 victory over College of the Pacific was a hard-fought contest as this picture indicates. The contest was played cleanly but bitterly. Total assessment for penalties was 70 yards. A standing room only crowd set the second highest attendance mark in the history of the college Saturday night.

San Jose Win Is Team Effort Says Bronzan

Concerted team effort combined Saturday evening with two plays especially designed for the Homecoming game with the College of the Pacific to give the San Jose State Golden Raiders a 7-6 victory before the second largest crowd ever to see a football game in Spartan stadium.

Over 18,000 persons watched quarterback Benny Pierce and End Mervin Lopes join talents for the 66-yard TD which was followed by Larry Rice's 17th conversion in 21 points after touchdown attempts. This occurred with 24 seconds left to play in the second quarter. Lopes took Pierce's pass on the COP thirty, eluded defensive back Bill Jacobs and trotted the additional yards for the score.

Margin of victory for the locals was provided when Spartan guard Tom Loudervack blocked a point after touchdown attempt by the Tigers. A jubilant Bob Bronzan described this play "no accident" in an after game press conference. Head Coach Bronzan stated that his boys had been practicing PAT running all week. Bronzan said also that the pass play which gave the Spartans the winning touchdown came from pass patterns designed especially for the College of the Pacific Bengals.

Refusing to single out any Golden Raider player for praise, Bronzan did mention that halfback Larry Matthews played more minutes than usual and did a sparkling job on both offense and defense. He stated that the second line players acquitted themselves with credit and that the victory belonged to the whole varsity.

Pacific's touchdown came when speedster Art Liebescher shot behind tired Spartan defenders and took a flip from Quarterback Roy Ottosen.

San Jose out-downed the Bengals 19-13 and garnered 230 yards rushing as compared with 156 for the Tigers. The locals intercepted 3 of 21 Pacific pass attempts. They outfumbled COP three to nothing and lost the ball on each occasion. Kicking laurels went to the Bengal punters who averaged 39.2 as compared with 36.4 for the Golden Raider booters. San Jose collected the most rule infractions which set them back 45 yards. Pacific's losses in this department totaled 25 yards.

College of the Pacific won the half-time ceremonies easily with a beautiful performance by the marching band. The audience was unable to hear the choral ensemble's rendition of a medley from "Carole" and other disturbances for which both rooting sections should be ashamed. Battered soloists Dorothy Newhardt, Patricia Armstrong and Diane Pattison.

The score of the game was not indicative of San Jose State college's supremacy throughout the game. On one occasion the Spartans drove inside the Bengal five and failed to score.

Seniors To Vote On Caps, Gowns

December graduates will be given ballots to vote on whether or not to wear caps and gowns at graduation at a special meeting of the entire senior class tomorrow afternoon at 4:20 o'clock in Morris Dailey auditorium.

Also on the ballot for the December class will be four choices for music for the commencement exercises.

The entire Senior Orientation program will be presented to the class for approval or disapproval at this time.

Evaluation Teams Start College Survey Today

Two accreditation committees will visit the campus today to begin a two-day survey of the college for evaluation ratings.

One team is from the State Board of Education which inspects the college for accreditation every five years; the other represents the Western College association.

Dr. James C. DeVoss, executive dean, is in charge of the accreditation procedures. He headed a self-survey committee a month ago which self-evaluated the college and reported its findings to the two visiting groups in a pamphlet, "Manual of Accreditation Procedures." The manual gave the inspecting committees an advance survey of SJS with which to properly evaluate the institution.

The visiting groups, composed of educators from throughout the West, will be concerned with the college educational, administrative and functional facilities, according to Dr. DeVoss.

The new buildings on campus will be of interest also to the teams, he said.

The college Journalism department will be surveyed for accreditation separately from the rest of the departments by a special authority of journalism from the University of Nevada, according to Dr. Dwight Bentel, professor of journalism. The journalism inspector will represent the Western College association.

The two accreditation teams met jointly last night at the Hotel Sainte Claire to plan the final accreditation procedure.

According to Dr. DeVoss, the self-survey of the college by the accreditation committee previously made for the benefit of the Western College association and the State Board of Education was of value to the faculty here in helping them better know their own institution and how it functions.

Vroom in Hornet's Nest!

"We've stirred up a hornet's nest!"

Graduate Athletic Manager Jerry Vroom greeted us with these words when we entered his office Friday. Vroom was referring to two articles appearing in the Spartan Daily, for which he had been the source. The articles were concerned with the supplying of unauthorized persons with football tickets. Vroom contends that giving the tickets away is as vicious as scalping them. We agree with him.

Arguments exist pro and con on the matter and space limitations prevent us from presenting both sides of the case. However, we feel that some statement of conviction should be made because to date, members of the student body have not expressed their opinion on the matter.

According to Vroom, members of the faculty have not been as reluctant to take a stand as the students have. Vroom stated that at least one individual contacted him and said that the faculty privilege cards which are presented to members of the faculty free of charge should be extended to include wives.

Also, this same individual declared that the cards belonged to the faculty to do with what they pleased. We are opposed to this evaluation of the free faculty privilege cards.

"Cooking For Two" Preserves Groom from Horrible Meals

"College women have suddenly decided they should know how to cook," Miss Maude L. Ashe, assistant professor in Home Economics remarked in an interview recently.

She was speaking about her class, "Cooking For Two," which is designed to offer the general principles of cooking for brides and "any male student who wants to learn to cook in case of emergency," Miss Ashe said.

Some of the recipes she includes in her teaching are: hot breads and biscuits (which, incidentally, are taught not to be like the bride's first attempt), meat dishes cooked in an oven or a broiler, a vegetable, and pies and cakes.

Offered only in the winter quarter, the course is not open to freshmen or to Home Economics majors. Home Economics majors may take the course if they desire, she said.

Intelligent planning and cost of foods along with food preparation are taught in the course, Miss Ashe added.

The course has been taught for the past two years and has shown a definite increase in enrollment, she concluded.

Thrust and Parry

But Seriously!

Dear Sir:

But seriously though, what kind of a show was that we had for homecoming? No one seemed to know how or when to pull the curtain or use the lights.

But seriously though, why was the AChio skit almost called off, with all that advance publicity? I know that the audience had a unanimous opinion on this matter. But seriously though, who was the MC? Why were there so many dead spots? Didn't the MC know that his chief function is to keep the show alive and together?

But seriously though, the talent was swell. The show just needed organization, and plenty of it. But seriously though...

Construction Work Fascinates Males

By NEIL FRANK

Since the building and grounds program at this college has expanded and become one of its prominent features, the campus has been beset by a strange phenomenon: the utter rapture of the males around campus watching the various construction projects.

What is the magical fascination this type of work has for our white-collar-man-to-be? Before probing this problem, it seems reasonable to note the symptoms shown by a man entranced by such things as flying rivets, stone crushers and bulldozers.

There is a complete concentration on the job at hand. Gone are all thoughts of classwork, women, parties, women and co-eds.

He displays powers of analysis and keen judgment in dealing with the problems that face the workers.

This fascination is not exclusive to students. Professors, clerks, janitors, and administrators fall under the spell also.

It is obvious that these men are aching to change places with the men in the overalls. You can see them saying, "My books for a hammer, my car for a bulldozer, my soul for a job with the Lew Jones Construction company."

These characteristics, all of which are easily observable, present an insight into the nature of man. Is it possible that as a child he had his knuckles rapped every time he tried to jump into a cement mixer? Or is he merely exhibiting a suppressed desire to wear a beat-up hat and get dirty? Yet another hypothesis — the many cranes, tractors, ladders, girders, huge mounds of earth, and other such appurtenances are projections of murky Freudian depths in the mind.

Holland Says Buying Field Growing Fast

"One of the most rapidly growing fields today for college students is buying for institutions and corporations," stated Jack Holland of the Business division in a recent interview.

According to Holland, Business Administration majors are in demand and during the last four years San Jose State has placed more of these students than any other school in California.

Four years ago the need arose for a course relating to purchasing alone and more recently the need was great enough to add a course in Governmental Purchasing, the only one in the West.

These two purchasing courses are open to business administration, marketing, accounting, economics and engineering majors.

The success is due, said Holland, to the support given by the National Association of Purchasing Agents and especially Edward Chambers, executive secretary for the Northern California Chapter of the association, who has placed many students.

"Over 50 per cent of all the money spent by American corporations today is spent by the purchasing agent or his staff," Holland emphasized.

"During the four-year period, 80 students have been placed directly in purchasing positions," said Holland, "and job possibilities for the future are very good." Students have relieved positions with Permanente, Owens-Illinois, Schlage Lock, University of California Hospital, Standard Oil, school districts and as city purchasing agents.

J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test

"Your hair's no yoke" bellowed Sheedy's gal. "Those cowlicks look awful. Why not take the bull by the horns and get yourself some Wildroot Cream-Oil, America's favorite hair tonic? Keeps hair combed without greasiness. Makes you look cud-dly. Removes loose, ugly dandruff. Relieves annoying dryness. Contains Lanolin. Non-alcoholic. I won't cow-tow 'til you start using it heifery day." Paul was utterly stunned, so he bought some Wildroot Cream-Oil for just 29¢. He told his girl the good moos and now they're hitched for life. So just steer yourself down to any toilet goods counter for a bottle or handy tube. And remember to oz your barber for Wildroot Cream-Oil too. You'll be the cream of the campus—and that's no bull.

Novice Boxers Workout For Annual Boxing Fray

Spartan beginning boxers have begun workouts for the 17th Annual Novice Boxing tournament which will be held in the Spartan gym Dec. 3, 4 and 5, Coach Julie Menendez said Friday.

"This tournament is the starting place for any man who feels that he might some day be candidate for the Varsity team," Menendez said in urging others to sign up, "and there is no such thing as a sure winner in the Novice tournament."

Menendez explained that the

A Phi O Plans Turkey Trot

The tenth running of the Alpha Phi Omega Turkey Trot will be held Nov. 24 at 12:30 p.m., it was announced recently.

A live turkey will be awarded the winner of the individual cross country race which is open to all students except lettermen in track. Second prize is a live duck and the third place winner gets a live chicken for his efforts.

The race covers a three mile course, and anyone intending to enter the event is advised by the Men's Physical Education department to begin training now.

Another feature of the Turkey Trot is a relay race in which teams sponsored by various campus organizations vie for a perpetual trophy.

In addition to their poultry prizes, the cross country winners also will be awarded permanent trophies.

Further details regarding entrance in the event may be obtained at the Men's Physical Education department office in the Men's gym.

events are not necessarily won by the best boxers, but by the "best conditioned" men. He urged possible participants not to hesitate and to see him or sign up with one of the managers listed below.

Managers for the tourney will be members of the Varsity boxing team who will help their charges get in condition for their bouts.

Named as managers for the event by Menendez are: Dick Bender, Bob Burnett, Grant Donnelly, John Freitas, Bob Harris, Vic Harris, Danny Hayes, John Hernandez, Kim Kanaya, Jack Montgomery, Joe Rodriques, Tom Stern, Bill Walker, Bill Walsh and Allan White.

To be officially entered in the tournament, boxers must sign the master entry blank, undergo a physical examination and be weighed in.

Competition will be held in the following eleven weight divisions, Menendez said: 120, 125, 130, 135, 140, 145, 155, 165, 175, 190 and unlimited. There will be no weight allowance. These are top weights and the candidate must weigh that limit or less, Menendez said.

Water Polo Clinic

Phi Epsilon Kappa, men's physical education fraternity, will hold a Water Polo clinic tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock in the pool of the Men's gymnasium. Dr. Charles Walker, coach of the water polo team, will be in charge of the clinic.

WAA Activities

By JOYCE THOMPSON

The San Jose State Women's Rifle team, which was organized last year, is open to all SJS women students. No experience is necessary to participate in this Women's Athletic association activity.

Rifle team meets once a week. Last year the women's team defeated the University of California women's team on their rifle range in Berkeley.

This quarter another meet between these two teams has been arranged to take place here at San Jose's rifle range.

Telegraphic meets are also on the schedule. In this type of match the scores are mailed, making it possible to have matches with colleges all over the United States.

There will be an important meeting Tuesday, Nov. 10, at 3 o'clock in B1. All women students interested in riflery can sign up there. Sign-up sheets also will be placed on the bulletin board in the Women's gym for those who are interested but are unable to attend this meeting.

WAA tennis meets every Monday afternoon from 3:30 to 5 o'clock. A doubles ladder tournament will be started Nov. 9. Everyone is invited to come out to play in the tournament.

Nov. 14 is the date of the big sports day at Stanford for area colleges. There will be hockey, tennis, orchesis, volleyball, swimming and badminton.

Spartababes Stress Offense For Final Game of Season

In preparation for their last game of the season, San Jose State college Spartababes will stress offense in practice sessions this week, Coach Bob Amaral said.

Spartababes end a five game season Friday night when they host Fresno junior college at Spartan stadium.

Two weeks ago the college freshmen defeated the College of Pacific frosh by a 7-0 score. Gene "Batman" Larson was captain for the game. Two black eyes from the previous Fresno State college game earned the "Batman" title for Larson.

Discussion Topics Asked For 'Religious Week'

Persons interested in choosing the theme of "Religion and Life Week," have been asked to check these discussion topics and place the answers in the boxes provided in the Student Union, Student Y, Morris Dailey auditorium and Science building.

1. How do you know there is a God?
2. Isn't God created by man in man's image to satisfy man's ego?
3. If God is so loving and kind, why is there so much suffering in the world?
4. How does religion explain the sudden death of a loved one or friend?
5. How can I reconcile the story of creation in Genesis and the idea of evolution?
6. What about miracles? Can you believe in the Bible literally?
7. Can one be a good Jew, Protestant, Buddhist or Catholic without belonging to (and attending) church?
8. What has the church done to better race relations in America?
9. How can Christianity meet the challenge of communism?
10. Are Jesus, Mohammed, Buddha and Gandhi all divine?
11. Does life have a purpose?
12. How important for happy marriage are similarities in religious background and belief?
13. If we're just the product of inheritance and environment anyhow, why all this talk about ideals, choosing the right way, and stuff?
14. Are premarital relations wrong for Christian students? Do they make for more or less happiness after marriage?
15. Is my religion the only right way to eternal life?
16. What should a college student do about drinking?

Lyke's 'Lykeable' Girl of the Month To Remain Mystery Until Issue Date

The question of the month is "Who is the 'Lykeable' girl of the month?"

A full-page picture of this wondrous creature will appear in this quarter's issue of Lyke, campus feature magazine, but co-editors Duane Fiorini and Muriel Voight who, with other editorial staff members, who chose the mysterious lady, firmly state that her identity will remain a deep, dark secret until the magazine goes on sale.

Fiorini also urged students to watch for a serious article in the magazine entitled "How to Study for Finals," which is guaranteed to lower any student's scholastic standing by at least two or three grade points.

John Landicho, advertising staff head, reported "The ad staff has done very well. Our advertising will surpass past averages in Lyke."

IRC, ISO To Hear Eleanor Roosevelt

At least 30 members of the International Relations club and the International Students organization will hear Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt speak at a dinner in San Francisco on Saturday, according to Carl Pagtert, club member.

The dinner is sponsored by the Student World Affairs council of Northern California and the Collegiate Council for the United Nations.

San Jose State college has been allowed 40 reservations, Pagtert said. He expected most of them to be sold quickly. Reservations may be made by calling Pagtert at CY 3-9628 or contacting Dr. George G. Bruntz, professor of political science.

Advertising Major Breaks Selling Record

Jim Dehning, a member of the Spartan Daily advertising staff, has broken an all-time Daily record by selling his 19th ad contract, according to Carl Hoffmann, associate professor of journalism and adviser to the staff. Previous record, made last winter quarter, was 13 contracts.

Hoffmann pointed out that the 19 contracts represent for Dehning the equivalent of 130-column inches a week in ad sales. This is equal to material for one page and two columns a week, he explained.

The 20-year-old ad major carries a normal amount of other college studies in addition to ad staff, which accounts for only three units out of a total of 16.

Dehning serves as secretary of

JIM DEHNING

Alpha Delta Sigma, national advertising fraternity. His ad work now makes him eligible for membership in the Order of the Golden Shovel, open to ad salesmen who have sold five or more contracts.

A graduate of Montesano, Wash. High school, Dehning entered San Jose State last year as a sophomore. Before entering here, he attended Grays Harbor college, which is located in Aberdeen, Wash.

'Students' Get High Record

Blue cards were received in profusion last week.

Virginia Mansfield, registrar's office secretary, reported 2708 people received 4067 cards.

To the people who contributed to this figure goes one note of consolation—they are the second highest number group to receive the second-highest amount of blue cards since records have been kept on such matters.

The record was made in the fall quarter of 1949, when 3052 students got 4488 cards.

Freshmen Cancel Variety Program

Freshman variety show has been called off because of the crowded schedule of activities this quarter, according to Paul Thomsen, council group D president.

Thomsen said the show may be put on another quarter if the activities schedule permits.

Group D will discuss plans for a budget and proceeds from the Saturday dance at the meeting today at 3:30 p.m.

Junior council members will devote their full time to making plans for the Junior-Senior prom today, according to Gil Chesterton, publicity chairman.

The council will meet in Room 127 at 3:30 o'clock.

Selecting a site for the dance, obtaining a band, choosing decorations, and other details will be topics of discussion.

This year's prom is scheduled for April 14, two weeks after the beginning of Spring quarter.

ISO To Sponsor Song Writing Contest --- $10 Cash Prize

The International students organization is sponsoring a song-writing contest, according to Sirouss Nownejad, club president.

The contest is being held in order to find a song that is suitable for use as the official song of the ISO. The winner of the contest will receive a $10 cash award. Both winner and runner-up will receive honorary memberships in the ISO.

Application blanks will be available in the Graduate Manager's office today. They are to be turned in to Box 1 in the Student Union before 5 p.m. Nov. 25. Purpose of the blanks is to determine the number of people wishing to enter the contest.

Entry blanks, on which the songs is to be written, are also available in the office. They must be returned to the office on or before Dec. 12.

Nownejad said that both words and music must be submitted on the same entry, but that any number of people could collaborate on the song.

The theme of the song should be international friendship and brotherhood.

A panel of judges will pick the four best entries and from these the club members will choose the winner.

PT&T To Hold Job Interview

Representatives of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company will be on campus today to interview engineering, business administration, purchasing and sales majors for full-time placement with the company after graduation.

Interested students may fill out applications for appointments with Mr. Kimbrough and Mr. Hearst in the Business and Technical division of the Placement office. The interviewers will be on campus until 4:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Army To Induct 23,000 In January

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6 (UP)—The Defense department today issued a January draft call for 23,000 men, all to go into the Army.

The announcement meant delay, at least until February, in action on the Army proposal for a leveling off of draft calls at a higher level.

WHATDIDHESAY?

A very fastidious college senior decided to add a few colored shirts to his wardrobe. So one afternoon, he strolled down to the local shirt shop. "I'd like to see your smartest colored shirts," he said to the clerk.

The clerk laid several Van Heusen Vanahue Broadcloths on the counter. "These are our best sellers," he said. "They're tailored of fine, high-count broadcloth that's very smooth and luxurious. And you can take your pick of eight different collar styles—including Van Heusen's new short collars that are the rage of the college set."

"They sure look good to me," said the senior.

"Good? They're terrific!" replied the clerk. "Just look at that magic seamanship—Van Heusen's finest. Why, even the buttons are top quality, genuine ocean pearl. And Vanahue Broadcloths come in every color of the rainbow—from soft, subtle shades to rich robust tones. What's more, they're only $5.95 apiece."

"Do you have henna color?" asked the young man.

"That's just what I got finished telling you," answered the clerk. "You can have henna color you want!"
